

Women's Opportunity Award

Applications due January 15th

This award was created to help women who are motivated to gain additional skills through further education or training to achieve an elevated employment status, but do not have the resources to do so.

The criteria for this award are:

- Has dependents, but does not necessarily have primary financial responsibility for the household
- Is entering or attending a vocational, technical training, or undergraduate degree program
- Demonstrates a financial need to offset any costs associated with the schooling necessary to gain additional skills or training

